SUD welcomes new communication manager

Mustang to have stronger role on social media

AUBREY, TEXAS – Mustang Special Utility District (SUD) welcomed Mike Albanese as its new communications manager earlier this month.

Albanese, a graduate of the University of Alabama, worked previously as a reporter for the Plano-based Star Local Media covering its Coppell and Carrollton markets. He was also sports editor for the Pilot Point Post-Signal and worked at news outlets in Texas and Colorado after graduating in 2011.

Albanese has a bachelor's degree in journalism and a minor in communications studies.

"I am excited for the opportunity before me here at Mustang," he said. "There are many new ideas I want to get working on that I believe can help Mustang continue to grow."

One of the goals of Albanese is for Mustang to be more visible on social media.

"My goal is for Mustang to be as visible as possible on social media, with both original content, and sharing content that is pertinent to our customers and area," Albanese said.
